

David Cameron, the Prime Minister of Britain, made the shocking admission that "Multiculturalism is dead" a few days ago. He said Muslims in particular, need to embrace British values.

Is the same true for America? Is Multiculturalism dead? It needed to die a long time ago! But it fits the Left, Progressive, Socialist, Communist & Marxist agendas!!!

What does it mean for America that multiculturalism is dead?

Multiculturalism is dead

- Posted by Judson Phillips on February 8, 2011 at 1:14pm in Tea Party Nation Forum

David Cameron, the Prime Minister of Britain made that shocking admission a few days ago. He said Muslims in particular, need to embrace British values.

The same is true for America. Multiculturalism is dead. It needed to die a long time ago. The people in America who have been pushing the multi-cultural garbage have always been leftists. They have a simple underlying message. Western civilization, particularly American civilization is somehow inferior to others. We need to raise those other cultures up to at least parity with America's culture. They have also tried to tear down America in the eyes of the youth of America.

America's leadership should take a clue from David Cameron. America may have created Burger King, but we are not Burger King. You cannot have it your own way when you come here.

If you come here from some third world country, do not expect us to transform America into the place you left. America is the best place in the world and if you are an immigrant here; you need to respect America or your need to leave.

This is America. First, we speak English here. Everyone should be multilingual. It expands your horizons. But we need a common language. No, we are not going to press 1 for English. If you come here to live, you need to be able to speak English within a year. If you are unwilling to learn, then that is your problem.

This is America. We are a country of laws. If you are going to come here, you are going to follow our laws. If you are going to come here, you are going to come here legally. If you come here, you are going to obey our laws. If you drive, that means you will get a driver's license. You will carry car insurance and you will pay your bills.

This is America. We have the best culture in the world. We do not beat our women. We do not make our women wear some head to toe over grown sock. We do not make our women walk five feet behind us. We do not arrange marriages for our daughters and we sure as hell do not kill them when they act like Americans!

This is America. If you come here, you are going to come here because you want to be a part of the greatest country in the world. We are not going to give you welfare. We are not going to give you free healthcare and we are not going to let you turn a part of our country into a smaller version of the country you left. We are not going to stand by quietly while you tell us you want to break up our country in the name of a mythical nation that never existed.

This is America. Our Constitution provides for an amazing amount of freedom. You are not going to come into our country and shout Americans down because we want to speak our mind.

This is America. We have done more good for more people than any other country in the history of the world.

This is America. If you want to be an American, adopt American culture, follow our laws and speak English, we welcome you. If not, don't let the door hit you on the way out.

UPDATE**

British Prime Minister David Cameron has now been joined by a growing number of world leaders like German Chancellor Angela Merkel, Australia's ex-prime minister John Howard, Spanish ex-premier Jose Maria Aznar and French President Nicolas Sarkozy who have condemned Multiculturalism!!!! Sarkozy said, "If you come to France, you accept to melt into a single community, which is the national community, and if you do not want to accept that, you cannot be welcome in France."

Read More Here